Colorado Aviation Business Association (CABA) Announces Scholarship Awards Totaling $9,000

Denver, CO – July 6, 2017 – The Colorado Aviation Business Association (CABA) is proud to announce the presentation of the 2017 CABA Scholarships. Three awards of $3,000 each were presented at the 11th Annual CABA-Signature Flight Support Golf Tournament held June 15, 2017, at the Black Bear Golf Club in Parker, Colorado.

The 2017 recipients are: Ms. Jenna Coffman, Ms. Kayla Hachen, and Mr. Ryan Cannon.

Ms. Coffman will apply her scholarship to flight training with Aspen Flying Club at Centennial Airport in Englewood, Colorado, intending to become a medical flight pilot. Ms. Hachen plans to become a pilot flying international supply relief missions, and will use her scholarship for flight training with Western Air Flight Academy at Rocky Mountain Metro Airport in Broomfield, Colorado. Mr. Cannon is a sophomore at Spartan College of Aeronautics & Technology in Broomfield, Colorado, where his scholarship will assist him complete training as an Airframe and Powerplant Technician. He will then continue on to a career as a maintenance technician in business aviation.

The CABA Scholarships were established in 2011 and are awarded to help support selected students or individuals with advancement of a career in aviation. To date, the CABA Scholarships have provided a total of $36,500 in financial assistance to 19 men and women pursuing careers in aviation. All aviation-related career tracks are eligible including, but not limited to: pilot, aircraft maintenance, airport operations, and management. Applicants are evaluated by CABA's Education and Outreach Committee, and recipients are selected based on their demonstrated dedication to an aviation-related career, scholastic transcripts, financial need, and recommendations from professional and/or faculty mentors.
